

March is...

March is a month in which we celebrate many things: all things Irish (today!), the arrival of spring (Friday - yeah!), playing with kites -- even peanuts (yes, it's National Peanut Month).

March is also the month where we bring awareness to more serious topics: ethics, workplace eye health and safety, work zone awareness, and disaster awareness for severe weather occurrences, floods, and tsunamis. Is your organization trained and ready? For March we are featuring the following courses:

Ethics Awareness Month

Started in 1990 by the financial industry, Ethics Awareness Month has grown to encompass all organizations. Ethical decisions are made daily. Take the time to train on all employees on the importance of ethics in your workplace. FirstNet offers two important online courses:

Ethics in the Workplace and Ethical Decision Making.

Eye & Face Protection

Learn the types of PPE used to protect the eyes and face, including selection and maintenance. (CAL/OSHA version available)

Learn More

Work Zone Safety

Learn work zone safety fundamentals. Created for people who work in and around work zone areas.

Also good for all drivers.
